INDULGE IN THE TRANQUIL LUXURY OF STILLWELL SPA

On top of one of the most iconic landscapes on Earth, sits the Snowpine Lodge tucked into Little Cottonwood Canyon. The Lodge dates back to the late 1800's and has evolved from a building used for the mining industry, to a general store, and now transformed into a luxury ski lodge. With views that take your breath away and unmatched hospitality, the Snowpine Lodge brings your escape to inspiring heights.

Stillwell Spa is named after the Stillwell Family, who owned the mine and general store. The spa embodies this history with its sacred space made from the original granite stone, a dimly-lit grotto with a hot tub, and other natural materials used throughout. Our six luxurious treatment rooms are designed to create the ultimate rejuvenating experience.
